

Autumn 2015

Seminar Schedule

Seminars held on Thursday, 11:00 a.m. in 290 Nutritional Sciences, 1415 Linden Drive

Sept. 3
Sept. 10	Dr. Melissa Kaczmarczyk Associate Principal Nutrition Scientist, PepsiCo	The Role of Industry in the Advancement of Nutritional Sciences
Sept. 17	Dr. Christina Chambers University of California, San Diego	Nutrition and Fetal Alcohol Spectrum Disorders: Can We Modify Risk?
Sept. 24	Dr. Zhuoxi (Joe) Wu Dept. Nutritional Sciences	HIF1-alpha in the Heart: Provision of Ischemic Cardioprotection and Remodeling Nucleotide Metabolism
Oct. 1	Dr. Corby Martin Louisiana State University	Effectively Applying Mobile Health Approaches to Improve Outcomes
Oct. 8	Verónica López-Teros Universidad de Sonora	The Use of Stable Isotopes in Human Nutrition in Mexico
Oct. 15	Dr. Julie Howe Auburn University	Peanuts, in a Nutshell
Oct. 22	Dr. Joseph Pierre University of Chicago	Primary Bile Acid Surgical Diversion Improves Adiposity and Glycemic Control in High-Fat Diet-Induced Obese Mice.
Oct. 29	Dr. Amanda Palmer Johns Hopkins University	Agriculture for Nutrition & Health: The role of aflatoxin as an “anti-nutrient”
Nov.5	Dr. Bill Schrage Dept. Kinesiology	Vascular Responses to Environmental Stress in Human Metabolic Syndrome
Nov. 12
Nov. 19	Dr. Lisa Cadmus-Bertram Dept. Kinesiology	Physical Activity and Health Promotion for Cancer Prevention and Survivorship
Nov. 26	Have a wonderful Thanksgiving! May you always have more to be grateful for than bitter about!
Dec. 3	Dr. David Eide Nutritional Sciences	Homeostatic and Adaptive Responses to Zinc Deficiency
Dec. 10	Bryan Gannon Nutritional Sciences	Applications of ¹³ C in Vitamin A Assessment and Maize Carotenoid Bioefficacy